Statement of FBIS _____ Bureau

.(For Responses to Press Inquiries)

The FBIS _____ Bureau has been part of (embassy, military unit, etc.) _____ since _____. The bureau reviews news and official statements broadcast by regional radio stations and published in newspapers of the area, and translates and transmits selected items to Washington. The Bureau is a component of the Foreign Broadcast Information Service (FBIS), which is charged with reporting from foreign public information media (radio and press) on behalf of the U.S. Government. It responds to requirements of the National Security Council. FBIS disseminates its product to all interested agencies of the U.S. Government. Its publications are available to the public and to foreign governments by subscription through the National Technical Information Service of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

For Briefing Officer's Information Only: You should be aware that the fact that FBIS is part of the CIA is in the public record. FBIS has been operating since 1941, first as a component of the Federal Communications Commission and very briefly in 1946 as part of the Department of the Army. Since 1947, FBIS has operated overseas as an overt information gathering activity, most typically under the responsibility of the American ambassador.
